Brickyard Farm House is the first Rammed Earth 4 bedroom 'residential property' built in Britain. Rammed earth is a very ancient building technique. It is built from material found at the site. Because rammed earth is compacted soil it does not have the emissions associated with burnt brick or cement.

Tour of David and Sophie Bernstein's Brickyard Farm House and garden with tea to follow for a group of 4 or 6, date sometime in September or October, T.B.A.
